Personal Profile

I am a responsible individual, who possesses leadership qualities due to the various leadership roles I have held throughout my schooling career such as being a committee ambassador and being a school prefect. This has taught me how to interact with people at various levels, time management skills and being accountable for various tasks. It also has made me a more sociable person as I am able to communicate and network with all types of people.

I enjoy coding, networking with people and have a passion for learning and developing new skills.
